

THE SOMERSET MARE

By Alan Kim Cochran

Capo 2nd

Fingerpick

Em Bm C D
In the darkness of night, in the black final hours
Em Bm C D
She drifts a witchlight, among nightshade flowers.
G D C D
And shuns mortal men, with their wild-eyed stare
Em Bm C D
Through forest and glen, rides the Somerset Mare.

G D C D
Once mortal, once girl, turned now, by the Mage,
Em Bm C D
Unrequited lover, to bring her to the cage,
G D C D
She runs in the woods, her true love forlorn.
Em Bm C D
He searches to find her, his lover's heart torn.

G D C D
Yet one day they shall marry, as fey lovers do,
Em Bm C D
For dread Fate must yield, to hearts that ring true.
G D C D
The spell will be broken, but for now she remains.
Em Bm C D
The Somerset Mare, running wild, without reins.

Em Bm C D
In the darkness of night, in the black final hours
Em Bm C D
She drifts a witchlight, among nightshade flowers.
G D C D
And shuns mortal men, with their wild-eyed stare
Em Bm C D
Through forest and glen, rides the Somerset Mare.